Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : MR. H. B. FLETCHER HBF
 FROM : R. W. WALL RWW
 SUBJECT: MARVIN JULIAN MILLER
 Office of Housing Expediter
 Washington, D. C.
 LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

DATE: November 23, 1949

PURPOSE: To advise of a telephone call received from Mr. L. V. Meloy, Executive Secretary of the Loyalty Review Board, regarding the above-captioned individual.

BACKGROUND: Mr. Meloy called on November 22, 1949, and asked me to check to determine whether or not the Bureau conducted a loyalty investigation on the above-captioned individual. I checked the files and determined that we had not conducted a loyalty investigation. On calling Mr. Meloy regarding this matter, I asked him if Miller was presently employed in the Federal Government since the Bureau's files reflected adequate information to institute a full field investigation. Mr. Meloy stated that he understood Miller was being considered by the Department of Labor for a position and that he would ask [redacted] of the Department of Labor, to contact me with regard to the details of this position.

[redacted] called later during the day and stated that it was his understanding that Miller was presently employed at the Office of the Housing Expediter and was being considered for a transfer appointment with the Department of Labor. [redacted] stated that on reviewing the files of the Department of Labor regarding Miller, he determined that the Bureau had conducted a rather extensive Hatch Act investigation of him and that since the Hatch Act investigation revealed considerable disloyal data he checked with Mr. Meloy to determine whether or not a subsequent investigation had been conducted under the Loyalty Program.

[redacted] stated that he also checked with the Fourth Civil Service Region regarding Miller's employment at the Office of the Housing Expediter and determined that the Civil Service Commission had made an error in the case of Miller in that they permitted his appointment by the Office of the Housing Expediter without requesting the submission of Loyalty Forms. He stated that in light of his calling this matter to the attention of the Fourth Civil Service Region, he felt sure that the Bureau would receive Loyalty Forms on Miller in the very near future.

RECOMMENDATION: In view of Miller's possible employment by the Office of the Housing Expediter and since there is adequate information in the Bureau's files to institute a full field investigation, it is recommended that the attached letter be directed to the Washington Field Office instituting a preliminary inquiry to determine the exact employment status of Miller. The WFO is being instructed to convert this case to a full field investigation in the event it is determined that Miller is actually employed at the Office of the Housing Expediter. A summary of the disloyal information pertaining to Miller is contained in the suggested letter to the Washington Field Office.

MARVIN JULIAN MILLER
Office of Housing Expediter
Washington, D. C.
LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

The Bureau has received information that the above-captioned individual is possibly employed by the Office of Housing Expediter either in Washington, D. C. or New York.

A review of Bureau files reflects that a Hatch Act investigation was conducted concerning Miller during 1944 and 1945, inasmuch as an informant advised that the names of Miller and his wife Teresa [redacted] b7D

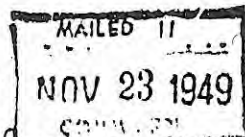

[redacted]
Reference is made to the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated October 13, 1949, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, entitled "Theresa M. Miller, with aliases, Security Matter - C," Philadelphia file 100-29754. This report reflects that an investigation is presently being conducted concerning Mrs. Miller who is the wife of the above-captioned person. This report reflects that Mrs. Miller was reported by informants to be a member of, and literature director for the Olney Club, Communist Political Association, Philadelphia, during 1944 and 1945. (100-282236-5) b6 b7C

The Washington Field Office is instructed to check the records of the Office of Housing Expediter to determine if Miller is now employed by that Agency, and if so the location of his employment should be determined. If it is established that Miller is employed by the Government, this inquiry should be converted to a full field investigation and the Bureau and interested auxiliary offices should be advised by teletype. Complete information concerning his Government employment should be obtained by the Washington Field Office and the Bureau and interested offices should be advised of the correct title for this case.

If converted the Washington Field Office will report the results of a check of appropriate Government agencies. Buded December 5, 1949.

| TITLE MARVIN JULIAN MILLER Compliance Negotiator Office of Housing Expeditor New York, New York | | | CHARACTER OF CASE LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES |

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

S. L. NEWMAN employed MILLER from 6-47 to 8-48 for International Assn. of Machinists, ARL in New York City. MILLER released during entrenchment program. Their acquaintance purely professional and NEWMAN regarded MILLER as a liberal interested in the Trade Union Movement. NEWMAN heard from Long Island representative of their Assn. that MILLER involved in dispute at Republic Aircraft over distribution of literature urging election of HENRY A. WALLACE for President (1948) after MILLER left their Assn.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

DONALD A. CRAWFORD, employed by Edward M. Hoy and Associates, Inc., Management Consultants, upon interview at the General Electric Company, Cleveland, Ohio, advised that he was MARVIN MILLER's supervisor during 1943 to 1945 when they both worked at the National War Labor Board, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

CRAWFORD related that he knew MILLER quite well and that further, he visited MILLER and his wife TERESA at their home on several occasions.

CRAWFORD said that he never heard MILLER say anything which could be considered disloyal. He knew of no organizations with which MILLER was affiliated nor did he ever hear his wife say anything which could be considered disloyal to the United States.

By teletype dated December 27, 1949 the New York Office was requested to interview [redacted] International Association of Machinists - AFL, 88 Merricks Road, Amityville, Long Island, New York on the basis of information furnished by S. L. NEWMAN.

NEWMAN related that after MILLER left them he had heard through [redacted] of their Long Island, New York Office that the workers at Republic Aircraft had some sort of dispute over the distribution of literature urging the election of HENRY A. WALLACE for President (1948), said dispute involving the United Auto Workers - CIO and their organization (who were attempting to organize the plant). NEWMAN stated it was his recollection that MILLER was working somehow with the WALLACE forces which were regarded as extreme "left wing" by their Association. NEWMAN stated [redacted] should know the details as he, NEWMAN, didn't particularly care about them since MILLER was no longer an employee of their association. NEWMAN stated he knew nothing pertaining to indications of disloyalty by MILLER during their acquaintanceship but stated that it is possible MILLER has been associating with Communists since leaving their organization but he, NEWMAN, knows of none of the details.

III RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

Mr. S. L. NEWMAN, 6623 Winona Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, who is affiliated with the International Association of Machinists - AFL in New York City advised he employed MILLER as a publicity man for their organization from June of 1947 to August, 1948. NEWMAN advised MILLER was released from their organization due to a general retrenchment program. NEWMAN advised he didn't know MILLER prior to this employment nor has he seen him since he was released. NEWMAN stated their acquaintanceship was professional not social and he never knew MILLER's wife nor any of their associates. NEWMAN advised MILLER's services were very satisfactory and because of MILLER's contacts their organization gathered financial information of employers they negotiated with.

NEWMAN said that during their acquaintance MILLER seemed to be "liberal" in that he was vitally interested in the trade union movement. NEWMAN could not further define his use of the word "liberal" except to point that he regarded himself as "liberal" since he, too, was very interested in the Trade Union Movement.

NOTE: Investigation of Miller is based upon information received that during 1944 and 1945 Miller's and his wife's [redacted]

b7D

[redacted] Also, that Miller's wife has been reported by informants to have been a member of, and Literature Director of, the the Onley Club, CPA, Philadelphia, in 1944 and 1945. Miller from June, 1947, to August, 1948, was employed by the International Association of Machinists, AF of L, Eastern Regional Office, New York City, as Director of Publicity. He has listed as a reference on one of his applications for employment Tom Tippet, Educational Director, IAM, Washington, D. C. Tippet was investigated under the Hatch Act and the majority of individuals interviewed considered him loyal. One acquaintance described Tippet as a "careerist" who "played ball" with the Communists. In September, 1939, Ben Gitlow, testifying for the Dies Committee, said that Tippet in 1925 worked for the Federated Press but that he was not a Communist. During the late 1920's, Tippet taught at Brookwood Labor College, reportedly Communist controlled. Tippet's name appeared as the sponsor of a banquet held during January, 1936, in honor of Mother Ella Reeve Bloor. During an interview, Tippet denied any affiliation with CP but did state that on one occasion as a correspondent for the Federated Press, he was assigned to report a convention of the CP. The decision, as a result of the Hatch Act investigation, was that sufficient information had not been developed to discontinue Tippet's employment. During January, 1947, the Security Index Card maintained on Tippet was cancelled because of no information received indicating current Communist activities. (61-8701-60) Other Bureau references do not reflect that Tippet has been critical of the Bureau and he has previously been interviewed as a reference in the loyalty case of Flora Young Hatcher and the Voice of America case of [redacted] (121-202 and 123-386)

Washington T-1, of known reliability, advised that the names of "MARVIN MILLER (W.P.B.)" and "TERESA MILLER (O.P.A.)" appeared on [redacted] T-1 advised [redacted]

Washington T-2, of known reliability, [redacted]

b7D

The Attorney General has declared the Communist Party, USA, to be within the purview of Executive Order 9835.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

In addition to the information furnished by T-1 as set out in the Basis for Investigation, T-1 advised that the names "MARVIN MILLER (W.P.B.)" and "TERESA MILLER (O.P.A.)" appeared together on the documents referred to in the Basis for Investigation and that the information concerning them was set forth in such a way as to indicate that there had been a delay over their transfer from one jurisdiction to another. T-1 further advised that apparently MARVIN and TERESA MILLER has expressed impatience over the delay in their transfer. T-1 further advised that the period covered by these documents began in the early part of 1943.

It is noted that appointee began work on November 19, 1942, in Washington, D. C. for the War Production Board after having left his position as Social Investigator in New York City. A previous investigation reflects that appointee's wife, THERESA M. MILLER, began work for the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. on December 24, 1942.

Upon recontact, Washington T-1 and T-2 could furnish no further information concerning MARVIN MILLER and TERESA MILLER mentioned above and refused to furnish signed statements or appear before a Loyalty Hearing Board.

Washington T-3, of known reliability, advised that the name

PERSONAL HISTORY

The personnel file of appointee at the Office of Housing Expediter contains the following personal history:

MARVIN JULIAN MILLER was born April 14, 1917, at New York City, New York. He completed high school in Brooklyn, New York and studied Economics at St. John's University, Brooklyn, New York, September, 1934 - June, 1935. He also studied Economics at the Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, September, 1935 - June, 1937, and at the New York University, New York City, September, 1937 - June, 1938, receiving his BS degree at the latter school.

His employment is reflected as follows:

April, 1933 - June, 1933, Reid and Snyder Drug Company, Brooklyn, New York as a Clerk; March, 1935 - June, 1935, Walgreen Drug Company, Brooklyn, New York as a Soda-Clerk; April, 1940 - November, 1942, New York City Department of Welfare as a Social Investigator; November, 1942 - June, 1943, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. as a Jr. Economist; June, 1943 - September, 1943, War Manpower Commission, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania as Assistant Labor Market Analyst; September, 1943 - December, 1945, National War Labor Board, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania as an Analyst; January, 1946 to July, 1946, National Wage Stabilization Board, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania as an Analyst; July, 1946 - June, 1947, U. S. Conciliation Service, Labor Department, Washington, D. C. as a Conciliation Analyst; June, 1947 - August, 1948, International Association of Machinists, 1650 Broadway, New York City as a Regional Research and Publicity Representative.

Appointee's file does not indicate that he presently holds a supervisory position. He is an American citizen by birth and at present he lives at 237-15 Fairbury Avenue, Queens Village, New York City, New York, and is married to THERESA M. MILLER.

New York teletype dated January 5, 1950, requested interview with [redacted] former co-worker of appointee. This individual was determined to be [redacted] whose interview is set forth in the details of this report.

Philadelphia teletype of December 29, 1949, requested that [redacted] formerly with National War Labor Board be located and interviewed. [redacted] Department of Labor, advised that her office has the custody of the former National War Labor Board personnel records, but that a careful search failed to reveal the file of [redacted]

The records of HCUA reflected that a [redacted] [redacted] signed a Communist Petition for New York, 1940, and that a THERESA MILLER was an American Labor Party candidate for State Assembly, 9th A.D., Queens County, New York City, as reflected in the New York Times on July 28, 1948, page 6, and August 22, 1948, page 45. The New York Office was advised of this information by teletype to determine whether this THERESA MILLER is identical with appointee's wife.

Reference is made to the case entitled "THOMAS H. TIPPETT, Assistant Chief, Rent Section, Office of Price Administration, Office of Emergency Management, Internal Security, Hatch Act", and the report of SA [redacted] dated March 21, 1942, Washington, D. C.

It will be noted that THOMAS H. TIPPETT was interviewed as a reference of appointee. It is noted that the allegation in the Hatch Act investigation that TIPPETT was a leader of a Communist group and believed to be a member of the Communist Party was not clearly substantiated by the investigation and that the Bureau advised under date May 18, 1942, that the indicated government agency after reviewing the investigation in this matter took no administrative action against TIPPETT. In view of this it does not appear appropriate to characterize TIPPETT in the details of this report.

[redacted] stated that he handles the rental of the premises at [redacted] but that he did not know appointee nor did he have available any records with which he could verify appointee's residence at the indicated address.

The records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities contained no information concerning appointee.

Appointee's Credit record contains no information reflecting on his loyalty.

The Metropolitan Police Department has no criminal record of appointee.

Washington T-5 and T-6, other government agencies conducting personnel and security investigations, contained no reference to appointee.

The files of T-7, another government agency conducting personnel and security investigations, contained no additional information concerning appointee.

Washington T-8 and T-9, reliable informants who have been acquainted with certain phases of the work of the Communist Party in the Washington area, did not know appointee.

The files of the Special Investigations Squad, Metropolitan Police Department, contained no information reflecting on the loyalty of appointee or his wife.

The employee's name was checked against the records of the Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and no criminal record was found.

and MILLER seemed overly interested in the racial question with reference to the establishing of equality of races. He stated that from these facts he was led to wonder whether MILLER'S thinking was influenced by Communism since he knew that many Communists who were backing WALLACE for President belonged to the American Labor Party and that the Communists emphasized the question of the equality of races. [redacted] stated that in spite of the observations which he has made, as set out above, he has no specific reason for believing that MILLER is not loyal to the United States. He stated that he does not know MILLER socially and does not know MILLER'S associates. He pointed out that he does not feel that he knew anything definite enough to warrant his signing a statement, but that in the event the Loyalty Hearing Board considered his knowledge of MILLER pertinent he would be glad to appear before the Loyalty Hearing Board in the capacity of a private individual but he did not want his organization involved in the matter in any way.

The American Labor Party was cited as a Communist front by the Special Committee on Un-American Activities, March 29, 1944.

[redacted] stated that [redacted]
[redacted]
[redacted]

He stated that he was unable to recall that the appointee roomed at his home and further that he has no record with which to verify appointee's residence there.

[redacted] stated that she knew nothing that would reflect against the loyalty of appointee. She stated that she was aware that he had an apartment at this address in about 1947, but that she was not well acquainted with appointee or his wife.

[redacted] stated that she was well acquainted with the MILLERS when they resided at this address for about a year in 1947; that she visited frequently in their apartment, and that she had never heard them discuss any private matters nor mention anything that would lead her to believe them other than loyal American citizens.

[redacted] and [redacted] residents of [redacted] [redacted] stated they were not acquainted with appointee or his family when he lived at this address.

was unable to furnish any information relative to the present location of appointee's former supervisors and fellow workers while at that agency.

Mr. THOMAS H. TIPPETT, Educational Director, National Association of Machinists, Machinists Building, stated that he knew appointee while the latter was working for the International Association of Machinists during the approximate period June, 1947 - June, 1948; that appointee worked in New York City, but was in Washington, D. C. from time to time and on these occasions, he, TIPPETT, talked to appointee concerning his work and also visited with him in his hotel room. He stated that their conversation was generally centered around the work of their organization. He explained that MILLER was employed at a time when a large recruiting drive was instituted by his organization and that part of MILLER'S work consisted of preparing handbills or "throw aways" for distribution in furtherance of the membership campaign. He stated that he reviewed MILLER'S rough drafts or manuscripts as well as those of other persons employed for the publicity work. He stated that he was always alert to the possibility of the inclusion in these writings of anything that could be construed as following the Communist Party line and he had never seen anything in the work of MILLER that would indicate Communist inclinations on the part of MILLER. He stated that in their conversation about their work the subject of Communist infiltration of labor unions came up frequently and in all of MILLER'S comments during such talks he detected nothing that would indicate that MILLER leaned toward Communism or foreign inspired ideologies. He stated that he has no reason for believing that MILLER is other than a loyal American citizen. He advised that he knows of no organizations to which MILLER belongs and he is not acquainted with MILLER'S associates. He stated that there are no publications available that were prepared by MILLER; that MILLER'S work was reviewed, edited and printed as passing informative material used during the union membership drive. b6 b7C

[redacted] International Association of Machinists, stated that he knew MILLER for approximately six months from about September, 1947 to February, 1948, having worked with him in New York City for the International Association of Machinists. He stated that MILLER was assigned that area to do publicity work under his, [redacted] direction. He stated that MILLER was a staunch supporter of HENRY WALLACE for President and of the American Labor Party,

[REDACTED]
Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, stated that he knew appointee for approximately one year in 1946 and 1947, as a result of their working in the same organization. He stated that he knows of nothing that would reflect against the loyalty of appointee.

[REDACTED] Department of Labor, advised that the personnel file for appointee in connection with his employment by the National Wage Stabilization Board and with the National War Labor Board had been transferred to the Office of Housing Expediter.

[REDACTED] Department of Labor, Temporary R Building, furnished appointee's personnel file covering his employment with the War Manpower Commission. A review of this file reflects he was employed June 16, 1943, as an Assistant Labor Market Analyst in the Program Planning and Analysis Section of the War Manpower Commission and was transferred September 8, 1943, as an Assistant Rate Analyst to the War Labor Board. The file reflected no disloyal information and the information in this file has been utilized in this investigation.

A review of appointee's War Production Board personnel file, the records of which are now located in the National Archives, reflects appointee began work on November 19, 1942, as a Jr. Economist and separated from the War Production Board on June 15, 1943, by transfer to the War Manpower Commission. The file reflected no information of a derogatory nature concerning appointee's loyalty. The information contained in this file has been utilized during this investigation.

At the Bureau of Federal Supply, appointee's personnel file reflected he was employed as a Jr. Operator of Office Devices from September, 1939 to March, 1940, in this agency, which was then known as the Procurement Division of the U. S. Treasury. The file reflected no disloyal information and the information contained in the file has been utilized in this investigation.

[REDACTED] Bureau of Federal Supply,

WFO 121-13177

THERESA M. MILLER was included in the expired membership list of the Washington Bookshop. The date following this name was February 26, 1943, which according to T-4, of known reliability, indicates the date of the last payment of dues. T-4 also advised that the fact that a persons name is carried on the expired membership list does not necessarily indicate that his membership has expired.

The Attorney General has declared the Washington Bookshop Association within the purview of Executive Order 9835.

Confidential Informants T-3 and T-4 were recontacted and could furnish no additional information and they will not furnish signed statements or appear before a Loyalty Hearing Board.

[redacted] Personnel Branch, Office of Housing Expediter, stated that appointee was reinstated to Federal service on February 21, 1949, as a Compliance Negotiator, Area Rent Office, Processing Section, Office of Housing Expediter at New York City; that his furlough from the U. S. Conciliation Service, Labor Department, ended effective September 22, 1947, and accordingly MILLER is classed as an appointee. She made available his personnel file for review.

A review of appointee's personnel file at the Office of Housing Expediter reflected no disloyal information. The information contained in this file has been utilized in this investigation.

[redacted] Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Department of Labor Building, stated that her records reflect that appointee worked as a Commissioner of Conciliation and later as a Report Analyst from July, 1946, to September, 1947, for the U. S. Conciliation Service, predecessor of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and that her file reflected no disloyal information concerning him. She stated his termination was due to a furlough resulting from a reduction in force. She stated that she knew appointee because of his being in her organization, but that she had not worked with him. She stated that she knew of nothing that would reflect against his loyalty to the United States. [redacted] further advised that the official file concerning appointee had been transferred to the Office of Housing Expediter.

the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to enable you to make such comments as you might wish concerning this inquiry. You may decline to answer any of the questions propounded to you.

As you may be aware, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is required by Presidential Directive to investigate matters coming within the purview of Public Law No. 252, 76th Congress. This Law prohibits membership on the part of any Federal employee in a political party or organization which advocates the overthrow of our Constitutional form of Government in the United States.

A copy of the report of this investigation, which will include your statement, will be furnished the Inter-Departmental Committee on Employee Investigations and the agency by which you are employed. After the notes of this interview have been transcribed, you will be given an opportunity to read them, making such changes as you may desire.

In order that the statements made by you may have particular credence, you will be placed under oath, if you have no objections. Do you have any objections?

MR. MILLER: No.

(At this point, Mr. MILLER was duly sworn.)

Q. Will you give the stenographer your full name, Mr. Miller?

A. Marvin Julian Miller.

Q. What is your present address?

A. 2306 76th Avenue, Philadelphia 38, Pennsylvania.

Q. By whom are you presently employed?

A. By the Regional War Labor Board, Philadelphia.

Q. What is your exact position or title?

A. My title is Case Investigator. It's a little misleading. My actual work is Hearing Officer in the Disputes Division.

Q. Are you now or have you ever been a member of an organization designed to overthrow the Constitution of the United States?

A. No.

money went to the Communist Party or any organization like it. When questioned as to whether he had any reason to believe or feel that funds he had contributed may have gone to the Communist Party, MILLER replied, "No, I don't have any reason to believe that is true. I'll tell you why I didn't give you an unqualified 'No'. In New York I recall going to affairs where the money was to go to Russian War Relief, for example, which I believe is entirely separate from the Communist Party, at least to the best of my information it is. That was the reason for my statement in the first place."

MILLER was questioned as follows: "Well, in your attendance at these affairs like the one you have just described, did you do so as an individual or through your association with certain persons who may have been responsible for your attendance and which persons may be members of the Communist Party?" MILLER replied, "No, I doubt that very much. In New York I was a member of the union that ran many affairs for many purposes. I worked in the Department of Welfare in New York, and there was a labor management committee. The Department of Welfare itself was represented on it, and the union actually had a committee that worked with them. Now most of these affairs were run for the express purpose of raising money for one relief organization or another; that is, I believe they alternated between Russian War Relief, Chinese War Relief, British War Relief, and the U.S.O., and to that end they received the cooperation of such organizations as the Brooklyn Borough Gas Company which used to loan us their eating facilities, for example, free. We paid 40 or 50¢ and the money went to various relief organizations."

"Now I never checked up on where the money went, but it was an official committee sponsored by the Department of Welfare itself, so that I have no reason to believe that it went anywhere but where it said."

MILLER indicated he was referring to the State, County, and Municipal Workers Union in New York, and in answer to the inquiry, "To your own knowledge you have never contributed any funds to the Communist Party directly or otherwise?", he replied, "That is correct."

MILLER declared that he was not then receiving and had never received any literature published by or distributed by the Communist Party, and had indicated that he had never given his personal services in the interest of the Communist Party.

In connection with his interview on January 16, 1945, Mr. MILLER was placed under oath prior to being questioned. He did not object to being placed under oath.

[] pointed out that he had never had any reason to question the loyalty of MILLER and had never heard any remarks passed to the effect that MILLER was suspected of disloyalty.

[] War Assets Administration, Lafayette Building, advised that she recalled MILLER when the latter was employed by the War Manpower Commission in Philadelphia from approximately June to September, 1943. She declared that she had little personal contact with MILLER and had not heard from him since he left the War Manpower Commission. She added that she knew nothing of a disloyal nature concerning MILLER, although he appeared to be a disgruntled employee who was interested in seeing some union among the employees of the War Manpower Commission organized. Glassine Paper Company, Conshohocken, Pennsylvania, advised that he had worked with MILLER in the same office for approximately five months in 1945 and 1946 at the National War Labor Board. He declared that he had no social contact with MILLER and has had no personal contact with him since early in 1946. He declared that he had never personally had any serious or lengthy discussions with MILLER about anything other than their work but had gained his opinion of MILLER through remarks dropped by the latter and from MILLER's discussions with others. He declared that he had no information indicating disloyalty on MILLER's part, but then noted that the latter had been interested in the matter of civil rights for all and seemed to possess the attitude that the "little fellow" never gets a fair deal. MILLER also was of the opinion that the capitalistic system was a dead end system that would not work, and further that under such a system the "little fellow" was at a great disadvantage. CURRAN declared, however, that MILLER had never proposed any other system for the United States and had never discussed, to his knowledge, the Communist system of government.

[redacted] went on further noting that MILLER had always been strongly opposed to the Fascists and thought that the Russian system of government was better than a Fascistic system of government. [redacted] also noted that MILLER, in his attitude toward various systems of government and economics, always seemed to approach the questions from a philosophical point of view. He never proposed any changes of any system in the United States that [redacted] could recall.

[redacted] pointed out further that MILLER's wife, THERESA MILLER, for several months wrote articles for a publication issued by a Meat and Cannery Workers local in Camden, New Jersey. According to [redacted] these articles by Mrs. MILLER apparently attempted to build up a class consciousness among the various employees in the meat and cannery business, and in [redacted] opinion, tried to set the various classes against one another rather than have them all work together. [redacted] declared that he had been the Research Director for the local involved, Local 56, and had been instrumental in having Mrs. MILLER's articles discontinued.

[redacted] concluded by stating he felt that MILLER would never do anything violent to harm the United States, although he did not feel that he could vouch for MILLER's loyalty.

[redacted]
Printing Industries of Philadelphia, Public Ledger Building, advised that for several months and had been his supervisor for approximately nine months in 1944 and 1945. He stated that he had always considered MILLER a reliable individual whose loyalty he had never questioned. He added, however, that he knew MILLER merely through their employment at the same Government agencies and had never had any close personal or social contact with him.

[redacted] added that he thought MILLER was pro-labor and recalled that he had been active in a union of employees in the office in which he worked. [redacted] declared that he was not a member of the union in question and knew that membership in the organization was frowned upon by his superiors because of the nature of the work being handled by both the War Labor Board and Wage Stabilization Board. He added further that MILLER was rather outspoken in his belief that employees should belong to a labor organization. To the best of his knowledge, [redacted] declared he had no reason to suspect MILLER of disloyalty.

[redacted], University of Pennsylvania, advised that he had known MILLER for approximately one year when the latter was employed at the War Labor Board in Philadelphia. [redacted] said that he was in charge of a section of the organization in which MILLER was employed, and while he knew MILLER, he did not have much personal contact with him as he was not MILLER's immediate superior. [redacted] recalled that MILLER had never been considered, to the best of his knowledge, disloyal although his attitude was favorable toward labor and his work was always evaluated in such a way as to compensate for his pro-labor attitude. [redacted] noted that he was not an intimate acquaintance of MILLER, and has had no contact with him since leaving the War Labor Board several years ago.

[redacted] Bulletin Building, advised that he had been MILLER's superior from approximately February, 1946 until the time MILLER left the National Wage Stabilization Board in approximately July of the same year. [redacted] also indicated that he had known MILLER slightly for several months prior to the period he was MILLER's supervisor. [redacted] declared that he knew MILLER only from a professional standpoint and had never had any social or intimate personal contact with him. He declared that he had been told by some other employee at the National Wage Stabilization Board to watch MILLER because MILLER possessed "leftist tendencies". [redacted] said he did not know what was meant by this remark concerning MILLER as he had never had any reason to question his loyalty and knew of no possible connections MILLER may have had that could have been considered of a disloyal nature. [redacted] added that he has had no contact with MILLER since 1946.

EMPLOYMENT

At Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

[redacted] advised that she knew MARVIN MILLER for approximately one year when MILLER was employed by the National War Labor Board in Philadelphia. [redacted] explained that her association with MILLER was of a professional nature as he was employed in a section of the Government agency over which she had supervision. She declared that she has had no contact with MILLER since she left the agency in approximately 1944.

[redacted] explained that during a previous investigation of MILLER she had described him as "a radical left winger". She declared that in describing MILLER as she did, she had no actual basis for questioning his loyalty. She went on to indicate that she had considered MILLER as a type of individual who may have supported HENRY WALLACE during the last Presidential campaign. She added further that she also considered him as in favor of a more friendly policy toward Russia than the great bulk of the public did. [redacted] was unable to furnish any further basis for her description of MILLER and added that today she would not describe him as "a radical left winger". [redacted] pointed out that she had no reason to doubt the loyalty of MILLER and considered that he was a loyal individual.

[redacted] Area Wage and Classification Office, 4th Naval District, United States Navy Yard, advised that he knew MILLER when the latter was employed at the War Labor Board, Philadelphia, and later when MILLER was with the Wage Stabilization Board in Philadelphia. [redacted] stated that Mr. and Mrs. MARVIN MILLER resided at that address from 1940 to 1942. She said that she considered them to be loyal citizens of the United States. [redacted] advised that there is no one else available in the neighborhood who might recall the MILLERS.

Education:

The personnel record of MARVIN MILLER contained in the files of the National War Labor Board, Washington, D. C., reflects that MILLER has attended St. John's University, Brooklyn, New York; New York University; New York School for Social Research; and Columbia University, all New York City.

The records of the New York School of Social Work, 2 East 91st Street, New York City, made available by [redacted] Registrar's Office, reflect that MILLER attended one evening course from October to December, 1941. [redacted] stated that there are no teachers available who would recall employee. The New York School of Social Work is affiliated with Columbia University.

The records of the New School for Social Research, 66 West 12th Street, New York City, made available by [redacted] reflect that MILLER registered in 1941 for a single evening course, but did not attend.

[redacted] Records Office, advised that the records of New York University, Washington Square, New York City, reflect that MARVIN MILLER attended the University during the 1937-1938 school year and received a B.S. Degree in June, 1938, majoring in Social Studies. Miss MURPHY stated that she could recommend no former teachers who would recall employee.

[redacted] Records Office, School of Arts and Sciences, St. John's University, Brooklyn, New York, stated that the records indicate that MILLER attended the University from September, 1934 to January, 1935. She stated that there was nothing in his school record which would reflect unfavorably upon MILLER'S loyalty.

NY 121-8510

[redacted] Department of Welfare, New York City, advised that she had been one of MILLER'S immediate supervisors in the Welfare Department. She said that she considered him to be a loyal American during the period that he was a Social Investigator.

During the course of another investigation of MARVIN MILLER by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1944, conducted under the provisions of Public Law 252 (Hatch Act), [redacted] and [redacted] employees of the New York City Department of Welfare, were interviewed.

[redacted] MILLER, advised that nothing had ever come to her attention indicating that MILLER was interested in or sympathetic to the Communist philosophies.

[redacted] stated that at no time during his employment as a Social Investigator, had MILLER given her any indication of having Communist sympathies.

[redacted] advised that she was well acquainted with the employee. She stated that she had never observed anything either in statements or actions on the part of MILLER which would indicate that he was Communistically inclined.

The employee's personnel file at the Department of Welfare reflects previous employment at the Majestic Shipping and Forwarding Company, 38 Pearl Street, and CARL M. LOEB, Rhoades and Company, 61 Broadway, both New York City, in 1939.

[redacted] Personnel Department of CARL M. LOEB, Rhoades and Company, 61 Broadway, New York City, advised that her records reflected that MILLER was employed from September 12 to September 22, 1939, as a runner for her company. She stated that since he was employed for such a brief period of time, ten years ago, she could recommend no one who would recall the employee. [redacted] stated that she did not know MARVIN MILLER.

[redacted] Majestic Shipping and Forwarding Company, 61 Broadway, New York City, stated that she could locate no record of MILLER'S employment by that company. [redacted] commented that no 1939 employment records were available. She said that employee was not known to her.

[] also stated that the employee was violently vehement against any type of discrimination existent, particularly when directed against Negroes.

[] described the employee as very intelligent and capable. He also stated that MILLER was released from his position of publicity representative of the International Association of Machinists, when the National Headquarters of this organization decided to eliminate all expense of publicity.

[] stated that although he felt that MILLER'S rabid support of HENRY WALLACE, his membership in the American Labor Party, and his vehement denunciations of discrimination placed him politically to the left, yet he had never known MILLER to criticize the democratic forms of government in this country, nor had he ever given any indication of adhering to Communistic principles.

[] declared that in view of his position as International Representative of the International Association of Machinists, and in view of his short acquaintance with the employee, he did not desire to sign a written statement, and did not desire to testify before a Loyalty Hearing Board.

[] Department of Welfare, 902 Broadway, New York City, made available the personnel record of MARVIN MILLER. The record reflects that MILLER was employed as a Social Investigator from April 1, 1940 to November 23, 1942, resigning at the latter date.

[] stated that employee is not known to her and that nothing in his personnel file reflects unfavorably upon MILLER'S loyalty.

[] Department of Welfare, New York City, stated that he is a former supervisor of MILLER in the Welfare Office. [] stated that nothing had ever come to his attention indicating that MILLER was not a loyal American.
